Ballindean - Kinnaird Circular Walk

Location	The path lies between Wester Ballindean and Kinnaird which are situated to the north of the A90 near Inchtute.
Type	Recommended by satellite group.
Description	This is a very attractive route that incorporates the Ballindean path (see Ballindean section for description and maps) into a round walk using quiet country roads. The road from the end of the Ballindean path has some moderate downhill inclines to Kinnaird, but the section on the High Carse road from the Kinnaird crossroads to Ballindean is flat. Take care on the latter section of the road which has more traffic than the Abernyte/Kinnaird road. Difficulties with the Ballindean path and the narrowness and inclines on the road section probably make this route unsuitable for disabled and wheelchair access.
Distance	2.7 miles
Parking	Please take care not to block access, particularly to fields.
Local sites of Interest
Special precautions	Please take care because some sections of the path cross fields with farm animals or livestock in them. Please shut the gates after use and please keep dogs under close control.
